“It’s very humbling to see our name in that stadium. This stadium is a beacon for the Naval Academy physical mission where we learn to succeed against overwhelming odds, and that’s what we wanted to support. We did this because we felt it was the right thing to do, to honor my classmates, as well as those who have come before and after us. This is a way of saying thank you for the decades of excellence we’ve been honored to call on—Robin, the kids and me. We are all better people because of what this place has done for us.”

—J. Michael Yeager ’76

A gift from Yeager and his wife Robin in support of the Academy’s physical mission is recognized in Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium’s Yeager Pavilion.
