COMMITTED TO EXCELLENCE

The Naval Academy alumni community's passion for supporting the Brigade of Midshipmen, the Academy and resources for alumni was evident in 2022.

Despite coming off the momentous success of the $541 million Called to Serve, Daring to Lead campaign, the alumni community continued its unwavering commitment last year. The whirlwind of support in December 2022 for the Fluegel Alumni Center's plankowner program is a testament to the alumni community's dedication.

Of the 1,300 plankowners who rallied to support the Alumni Center, about 50 percent committed in the final month of 2022.

More than 3,500 generous alumni, including 37 U.S. Naval Academy classes and the plankowners, raised more than $50 million to build and support the facility. Naval Academy Alumni Association & Foundation President and CEO Jeff R. Webb '95 said the alumni community always steps up when called upon.

"The response was overwhelming," Webb said. "We are in transition into the Fleugel Alumni Center and looking forward to the dedication event on 8 September. This Alumni Center has been a decade in the making and will serve as our new headquarters, a first-class event venue and a refuge for alumni when they return to Annapolis. Thanks to the overwhelming generosity of our donors, we were able to fully fund this building with no debt."

GOOD TO GREAT

In 2022, the Alumni Association & Foundation helped sustain the Naval Academy's Margin of Excellence through investments for the physical mission, faculty positions and midshipmen development programs. The year's highlights include Dr. Qamar-ul Huda chosen as the Naval Academy's first Michael E. Paul Distinguished Visiting Professor of International Studies and the Academy's rugby teams elevating to varsity status.

The Naval Academy Alumni Association & Foundation also supported a variety of Academy programs including:

STOCKDALE CENTER FOR ETHICAL LEADERSHIP

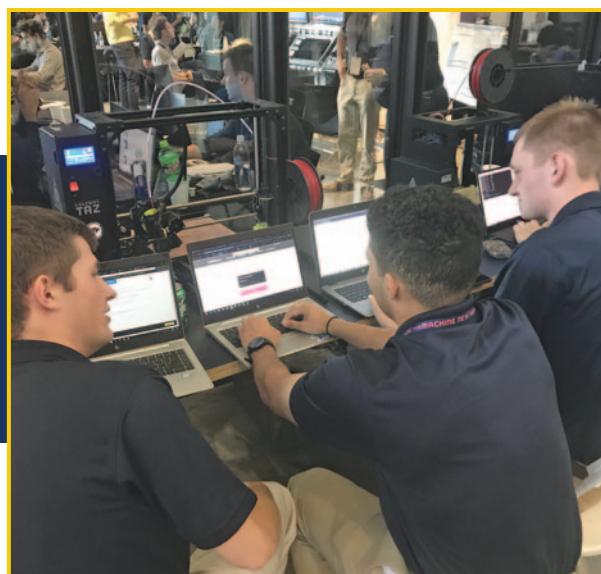

- The Boeing Leadership Innovation Lab, in the Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership, addresses the challenge of preparing new generations of leaders who absorb, process and use information for making decisions and providing direction to others in a much different way than generations before them. The Innovation Lab's initiatives include Augmented Reality and Simulation which, through the use of technology, allows midshipmen to test themselves in a simulated ethical dilemma during a collision at sea, and provides lessons in decision making while traveling in foreign countries. The Lab also produces podcasts centering on subject matter relating to the ethical, leadership, character and legal implications that affect the lives of future junior officers.

- The 2022 McCain Conference examined "The Ethics of Military Artificial Intelligence." The two-day event featured 23 speakers and 140 attendees including midshipmen, Naval Academy faculty and staff and faculty from other military academies, war colleges and civilian universities.

CENTER FOR CYBER SECURITY STUDIES

- 33 midshipmen participated in summer internships with corporations such as AT&T, Lockheed Martin, Booz Allen Hamilton, General Electric and more.
- USNA's Cyber Security Team (CST) won the SANS NetWars Academy Cup Championship, a competition specifically tailored to the U.S. Service Academies.
- The CCSS led international trips to seven countries for various professional development and cultural immersion experiences with a focus on cyber education and training.

CENTER FOR EXPERIENTIAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

- During the summer of 2022, 84 midshipmen attended one of four types of National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS) courses in Wyoming and Alaska.
- In 2022, seven midshipmen and two Naval Academy staff members, participated in a battlefield study of the Marianas Islands, taught each other classes and wrote a blog to capture the important military and cultural lessons learned from these key World War II battles.

STEM CENTER FOR EDUCATION AND OUTREACH

- In June 2022, 778 rising 9th-11th graders attended the Naval Academy's Summer STEM Program.
- 3,087 students participated in Summer Heroes Youth Program with midshipmen mentors leading 150 classroom visits at nine middle schools in the Annapolis region.

The Naval Academy Alumni Association & Foundation is starting to deliver on the Academy's Plan 2030 priorities which are mostly geared toward leadership development across disciplines and the midshipman experience. While the Enterprise is still working on its own Strategic 2030 plan, its mission to support the Academy, and the alumni community, persists.

"Our work never stops," Webb said. "Our board and staff are actively working with Naval Academy leadership on the next campaign that is being developed based on the needs identified by the Naval Academy's Strategic Plan 2030."

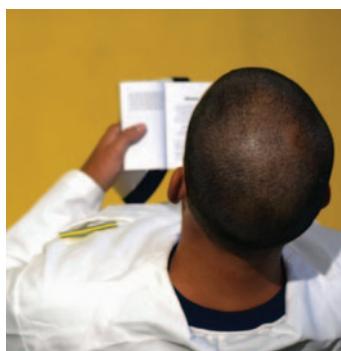

ALL GIVING LEVELS MAKE A BIG IMPACT

Every donation, no matter how small, counts towards making a significant difference in the lives and development of midshipmen. Your gift in 2022 impacted and created positive change at the U.S. Naval Academy, for midshipmen and in our alumni community.

YOU PROVIDE THE MARGIN OF EXCELLENCE

LETTER FROM THE CHAIARMEN

By Ron Terwilliger '63 and Admiral Mark E. Ferguson '78, USN (Ret.)

Providing the Brigade of Midshipmen with unparalleled academic, athletic and leadership opportunities is an unwavering commitment for the Naval Academy Alumni Association and Foundation. The Naval Academy retains its annual ranking as U.S. News and World Report's top Public School largely because of the alumni community's support.

That steadfast support persisted in 2022. Thanks to the philanthropy of the alumni community, the Brigade continues to benefit from first-in-class leadership development opportunities, elite academic and athletic facilities and language/cultural immersion programs. This "Margin of Excellence" is what separates the Naval Academy from its peers.

The Naval Academy's Plan 2030 priorities include leadership development across disciplines and enhancing the midshipman experience. The overwhelming success of the $541 million Called to Serve, Daring to Lead campaign, which concluded in June 2021, is allowing the Naval Academy Alumni Association & Foundation and the alumni community to begin delivering on those goals.

We also want to thank the alumni community for rallying around the new Fluegel Alumni Center project. We are eager to welcome alumni to their new home this fall. Our steadfast mission is ensuring the Naval Academy remains the best in the world at educating men and women of character to lead sailors and Marines in peace and war. This donor report illustrates our collective commitment to that mission and to the future of the Naval Academy. We are grateful for your philanthropic partnership to sustain the "Margin of Excellence."

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ron Terwilliger '63

LIFETIME GIVING UNRESTRICTED

Those who have served as leadership donors in lifetime unrestricted giving have made particularly distinctive commitments in support of the Academy. Unrestricted gifts have a profound impact which serves to advance all the Academy's strategic priorities, and the most emerging needs of the Brigade. These supporters are typically unsung, without named positions or recognition in bricks and mortar that accompany many other gifts. The Naval Academy Foundation honors those who have made unrestricted gifts of $1 million or more on a display in the Armel-Leftwich Visitor Center.

As I reflect on the many things that shaped me, the Naval Academy and with my family and their values have been the most impactful influences in my life. I owe a tremendous debt to the Academy for all they instilled in me and I want to give back to the Academy so that they can provide that same support to all the midshipmen in the future.

CONSECUTIVE-YEAR GIVING

A loyal and growing group of alumni, parents and friends of the Academy have made a gift through the Foundation for at least 25 years. These donors have played a critical role in shaping the culture of philanthropy that help make the achievements of today's Academy possible. We are profoundly grateful for their commitment and honored to continue to recognize them here.

Those who consistently support the Academy showcase the importance of the Naval Academy in the world today. Even though you may have other philanthropic priorities to support, children and family to focus on, a changing landscape in the world; really any new circumstance, loyal donors at the end of the day are choosing to support the Academy year after year to forward the mission. It’s incredible to see the number of individuals that haven’t skipped a year of support and for the first time in 2022 we can recognize the first ever donor to reach the milestone of 50 consecutive years of giving! Commander Francis Packer ’45 started supporting the Naval Academy before the Foundation existed and no doubt has seen countless changes in the world and at the Academy but continues to prioritize the Academy and we are grateful!
— Gabrielle Kulesar
Senior Director, Annual Giving Programs”

PRESIDENT'S CIRCLE

The President's Circle is the premier giving society of the Naval Academy Foundation, recognizing those whose generosity sets the standard for personal philanthropy and challenges classmates, parents and friends of the Academy to enhance their own support. In 2022, the Foundation had a record-breaking year with more than 2,000 President's Circle donors. Over the last 27 years, the President's Circle community has grown into a group that not only provides significant resources to the Academy, but one that also provides donors the opportunity to increase their own engagement and deepen relationships as alumni, parents and friends who support the Academy. President's Circle donors are invited to celebrate their philanthropic impact annually during President's Circle Weekend held in Annapolis where they interact with Yard leaders, faculty and of course the midshipmen who benefit from their generosity. Thank you to all our President's Circle donors!

ROBERT MEANS THOMPSON SOCIETY

The Robert Means Thompson Society recognizes individuals who have made a gift for the future of the Naval Academy, either through an estate gift or a gift that pays them an income for life. Through thoughtful planning and the use of tax-wise giving techniques, these gifts are often the largest gifts individuals make in support of the Naval Academy. In 2022, the Robert Means Thompson Society celebrated its 25th anniversary and the members who contributed nearly $151 million in support of the Naval Academy during that time. Membership in RMTS provides the Naval Academy Foundation with an opportunity to thank members for their future generosity during their lifetimes.
